Arrival at 10.30 am at the airy studio located close to Ratusz Arsenal metro station. Meeting with the chef who would be your cooking instructor that day. We would begin with a tempting buffet of traditional Polish meat, cheese, and bread - all of them home-made and organic. Besides, your cooking teacher would present you briefly the history of Polish cuisine. Afterwards, you would prepare a traditional Polish meal, according to your gastronomic preferences. At the end, there finally would be time to enjoy the mealtime. The 'feast' would obviously include the dish you had chosen and prepared as well as complimentary soft drinks. You would be served a delicious dessert too. The course would finish around 2:30pm. You would be given a book of recipes, a certificate of participation and an additional gift.

The activity is organized in English, on every Wednesday and Saturday. If you want to have a private class or the presented dates below don't suit you or the class should be held in different language (Arabic, Polish, German, Spanish or Italian) please send an email to arrange a delicious meeting at your convenience!
